Prices are F.O.B. mill, excluding freight

As the third quarter of 2019 nears a close, most commodity markets found themselves in the same mode that they've been in for most of the year. Prices were soft across most species and items. Wides in particular gave up some ground. OSB continues to be readily available in most regions, and prices again softened in the SE as pre-hurricane OSB purchases pushed through the system. There is little sense of urgency for most buyers as we roll toward fall.
